COUNTY PIONEER SUCCUMBS TO HEART FAILURE AT HOME

Frank W. Hatch, Prominent in Western Lake Co.,
Taken by Death

Frank W. Hatch, one of the best known farmers in western Lake county and McHenry county, passed away at his home on the Antioch-Richmond road yesterday morning, at the age of 74. He began failing rapidly about ten days ago, due to a heart ailment.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be in the Cole cemetery at Spring Grove.

Frank Hatch was born January 1, 1857, on a farm near Spring Grove, Ill. Most of his life, with the exception of the years when he was studying at school, have been spent in the vicinity of western Lake county. He is a graduate of the University of Illinois, and of the law department at Northwestern, and has served as a University of Illinois trustee.

Mr. Hatch has always been greatly interested in the development of this country, and has kept himself well-informed on all current problems. He has served on the board of supervisors in McHenry county, and at the time of his death was treasurer of the Antioch laundry.

His wife preceded him in death seven years ago, when she was killed in an auto accident near Normal, Ill. He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Paschel Allen, of Spring Green, Ill.; Mrs. Gene McDougal, of Antioch, and Miss Laura A. Hatch, who lives at home.

AMATEUR BOXING IS RESUMED AT ANTIOCH PALACE

First Show Is Well Attended
—Rafferty Announces
Good Card

A great crowd of boxing fans, deprived for months of seeing leather-punchers perform in Lake county, Friday night witnessed a crackjack card of eight fights, and saw Earl Watson slug his way to a knockout victory over Johnny Bell, in the third round of the wind-up, fracas of Promoter Mickey Rafferty's opening show at the Antioch Palace.

Two Lake county men figured in the program. Howard Craft, Grayslake, was out-boxed by Gene Higgins, Chicago; and Johnny Taylor, Waukegan, was credited with a victory over Tony Roberts, Chicago.

Five other bouts were fast, and the huge felt that they had their money's worth in entertainment.

Kerwin to Be in Charge.
Pep Kerwin, manager of the Western Athletic Stadium, 634 North Western avenue, Chicago, has been named by Mickey Rafferty to be in direct charge of the boxing shows, which are to be conducted every Friday night during the summer months at the Antioch Palace located on route No. 21 just south of Antioch.

The remainder of the staff will find Sammy Abruscato serving as matchmaker and Tommy Moore as the referee. These officials are well known throughout Chicago and have a large number of popular amateur battles under their "wing."

A splendid card has been lined up for Friday night of this week at the Antioch arena, according to an announcement made today by Kerwin, and he plans to present excellent cards every week.

The boxing shows will start promptly at 8 o'clock, Daylight Saving Time, in the future, and the first show featured by an early knockout will find the fans furnished with an extra bout.

Local Vet. Cures Sick Dogs Given Up as Lost

Two prize dogs belonging to Matthew C. Raarup, of Chicago and Lake Marie, were saved from death by dismemberment, by Dr. G. W. Jensen, local veterinarian, this week, according to the owner. Raarup claims that his dogs had failed to relieve the suffering dogs, and that they were near death, when he took them to Dr. Jensen with but little hopes of having them saved.

Rex Bonser, Crack Bugler;
Member of Winning Corps Among the winners in the Drum and Bugle Corps contest last Sunday and North Chicago Days, Kankakee took second place, which is of interest to members of Antioch Post American Legion, as Rex Bonser, a former member, was one of the buglers in the 50-member corps.

Printing Injunction Case Will Be Heard Soon

Whether or not certain Lake county politicians will be allowed to continue to prosper at the expense of taxpayers through gross violations of the Illinois statutes and in the face of the corrupt practices act, will be known some time next week when a court decision is rendered in answer to the petition filed by Attorney Mortimer Singer in behalf of the Singer Publishing company, asking that the board of supervisors be restrained from paying money from public funds to the Udell Printing company of Highland Park.

The bill alleges that "illegal diversions and misappropriations" of public funds have brought increased taxes. It is alleged that the Udell company has secured many large printing orders, while a member of the firm, Paul Udell, has been a Lake county supervisor and a member of the printing committee.

While the case is regarded as one of the most important to come before a judge for a decision, it has received no publicity in Lake county. The case is being watched with keen interest by thousands of Lake county taxpayers.

Charles Clingman Celebrates His 81st Birthday

Views Many Changes in History During His Eventful Career

Charles W. Clingman champion of labor, who thirty-eight years ago opened the portals of the Chicago World's Fair that tollers of the metropolitan area and of the entire world might visit the first big world's show on Sunday, celebrated his eighty-first birthday Tuesday at his Channel lake home, with his wife, children, and several grandchildren and friends.

CHAS. W. CLINGMAN

Since Mr. Clingman's birth eighty-one years ago in a frame building at Randolph and Wells streets, Chicago, he has witnessed and helped to make one of the greatest historical epochs in the history of the United States. He has seen Chicago grow from a straggling village with one high school to one of the world's metropolitan centers, during his sixty years' association with several of the greatest of the world's shining houses.

Although too young to enlist when the Civil war stirred the country, he served as a military assistant in the Union infantry.

Mr. Clingman and his wife now spend their winters in California and summers at Channel lake. They returned to Antioch early this summer, both in excellent health.

SERVICES TO BE HELD IN HICKORY CHURCH SUNDAY

Regular church services will be held in the Methodist church at Hickory Corners at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Standard Time, with the Rev. S. B. Pollock conducting the services. It was announced this week.

Regular services have not been held in the church for several years, but since Spiering vacated the church on July 23, members of the parish have decided to hold a revival.

LAKE VILLA WOMAN IS TAKEN BY DEATH

Funeral services for Mrs. Earl Wilkinson, of Lake Villa, who passed away Monday morning at the Sherman hospital, at Elgin, were held yesterday afternoon from the Elgin church.

Mrs. Wilkinson was a sister of D. J. Gallger, Lake Villa township road commissioner. She was 44 years old. Besides her husband, she is survived by seven children, five brothers and three sisters, and her mother.

Nose Is Broken by a Gas Engine Part

Earl Hawkins is suffering from a broken nose, received when the governor on his gasoline engine flew off and hit him in the face, as he was pumping water at his home at Lake Marie Sunday morning.

He has not been able to resume work at the Antioch Sales and Service station this week, and is under the care of Dr. Beebe.

Champion Marathon Dancers Coming to Channel Lake Pavilion

The world's long distance dancers are coming to the Channel Lake pavilion next Wednesday night.

Think of dancing continuously for 5,555 hours! That's what Bob DeMarcel and his partner, Marie Hepp, did to win the world's long distance terpsichorean crown. With Bob and Marie will come also the runners-up, Jackie Owens and Ann Gorry, who danced 5,555 hours.

Accompanying the quartet of dancers here will be "Hack" Williams, trainer, and holder of the world's solo dancing record. "Hack's" stunt to win this honor was dancing 244 hours without a stop.

These famous dancers are coming to Channel Lake for one night only, next Wednesday. There will be no advance in admission charges. Manager Homer Winch announced today.

Press Criticism Of Our Officials Is Advocated

Honest Officials Want People to Know the Facts

The attorney general of Nebraska, C. A. Sorenson, is attracting much newspaper interest on account of his very frank discussion of public officials who, he says, are hired men, employees, servants, paid by the people and subject to discharge by the people for failure to obey orders. Some of his most sensational statements in this connection are:

"Newspapers owe to their readers the duty of ascertaining facts about public officials of the town, county, state and nation."

"The people rule. They cannot rule intelligently unless the press gives them the facts."

"A fearless newspaper with the ability to get and print facts about public matters is a priceless asset, not only to the town where it is printed, but to the state and nation."

"Crooked politicians fear the press more than the courts."

"Wooden headed office holders can only be moved by sharp newspaper blasts."

"An honest, fearless newspaper ought never to join hands with trucking town politicians who want to whitewash with local pride cancerous conditions that need cleaning up and not covering up."

"The officials should be honest and frank."

"Who elects the official? Who supplies him with spacious offices, stenographers and assistants? Who pays his salary, rain or shine, depression or prosperity? The people who elect him. What argument can he possibly make then against letting the people have full information as to what is going on in his department?"

"The far-sighted public official wants the people to know what he is doing. If they know and approve, he is almost invincible."

"The taxpayers of the nation should thank the U. S. Daily for providing a forum through which progressive officials like the Nebraska attorney general reaches the public indelible statements which are disregarded for Lake county consideration because so many officials need to study the attitude of the taxpayers who pay the freight and incur in the sentiments of a brilliant public attorney who will certainly be promoted by the people to the highest place in the commonwealth for the reason that he understands the feelings of the average voter."

WOMAN IS HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Car Wrecked in Collision
at Pollock's Corner
Saturday

MOTORCYCLIST KILLED

One woman is in the Victory Memorial hospital and two other persons are slightly injured as a result of a crash at Pollock's corner, North Main street, Saturday night.

The accident occurred as Edwin Van Slyke, 405 Powell avenue, attempted to cross route No. 21 from Masak's filling station opposite Pollock's corner. Suddenly noticing an approaching car which he had failed to observe before, he swerved in an effort to avoid a crash, and his car hit a tree. The collision, however, was inevitable, and the Packard, driven by John Poulsen of Evanston, side-swiped the car as it swerved.

Van Slyke's car came to rest in the ditch, badly damaged. Several persons ran to the scene of the accident, when it was discovered that Mrs. Van Slyke was suffering from a broken collar bone, a scalp injury, and other bruises. She was taken to Dr. Williams by John Horan, and later rushed to the Victory Memorial hospital.

Van Slyke and his son, James, were slightly bruised, but a neighbor who was with them escaped unscathed.

Boy Motorcyclist Dies in Crash.
Numerous other accidents occurred in other parts of the county during the weekend, resulting in the death of one boy, and injuries to many others.

Wesley Clark, 18, 1414 Laurel avenue, was the victim of a collision Sunday night, when he drove his motorcycle into the side of a light coupe driven by Dr. John Freeland, 415 Greenwood avenue, at the intersection of Grand avenue and Elmwood avenue, Waukegan.

Clark was killed instantly, but his companion, Raphael Peterson, was not hurt, and Dr. Freeman escaped uninjured. At the inquest, it was decided that the death was accidental. Clark's machine, which was newly purchased, was not equipped with lights, and was exceeding the speed limit, according to the police.

Another motorcycle accident at Wheeling resulted in injuries to Sam Vacula, 26, Mary Lou Ostroeki, 19, and Roy Anderson, 29, all of Chicago, when their motorcycle and sidecar crashed into an automobile.

Many Injured in Auto Crashes.

Others injured were Emil Schmidt, 55, Chicago, who was treated at the Victory Memorial hospital for injuries following a smash-up on the Green Bay road Sunday morning; Homer Miller, of Norwood Park, and Robert Johnson, who were forced into the ditch near Waukegan by a hit-and-run driver; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hainrich, Miss Crystal Peters, of Highland Park, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Harry, of Lehigh, O., who received cuts in a collision of their cars on the Green Bay road Sunday; Mrs. Myrtle Hodel and D. Loring, of Gary, Ind., who were injured when their automobile skidded into another near Five Points.

Archie Van Marcke, 129 Prospect Drive, suffered cuts and bruises when a pile of steel slabs fell on his arms as he was working at the Waukegan plant of the Steel Kitchen, Inc., in the terminal building.

Hold Four after Crashes.
Lloyd Kemp and Alonzo Poole, colored, of North Chicago, were arrested after a crash of their automobile with a Greyhound bus on Green Bay road and Belvidere street. Poole received treatment at the hospital for cuts in his arm. Harry Hartz and Elmer Landt, of Chicago, were arrested for reckless driving after a chase on Milwaukee avenue.

DID THE MOVIE MEN GET YOU?

Twin Lakes Ballroom Proprietors Bring Hollywood to Town

Antioch in the movies! That's what happened yesterday afternoon when Director Cudde and his staff of cinema men "shot" the town. Traffic of busy streets, people hurrying to and fro, the Antioch fire department in action, were only a few of the many scenes taken. "Say nothing of the group of happy girls clad in beach pajamas (movie men always get a break)."

The movie making here was just a part of the program of the mammoth movie ball and mardis gras being staged this week at Carl E. Rademacher's Twin Lakes ballroom. The pictures made this week will be shown at the ballroom next Monday and Tuesday, August 10 and 11.

The films of scenes and people throughout the locality are the property of Mr. Rademacher, who will loan them to any organization desiring to show them at any future time.

Armed Bandits Make Daring Gas Station Hold-Up

Bind and Rob Managers and Customers of Olsen's
Filling Station

A daring hold-up was successfully perpetrated Sunday night when three armed youths held up and bound Mr. and Mrs. Charles Olsen, proprietors of a gas station at the intersection of the Long Lake road with route No. 21, and robbed the place of $50 as well as $29 from two customers.

The three youths, two of whom, Olsen said, were dark, drove up to the filling station and asked for five gallons of gas. After their tank was filled, they entered the refreshment stand and as the Olsens came up to wait upon them, one drew a .45 caliber revolver, and pointing it directly at the proprietors, ordered them into a back room. The bandits then bound them to chairs, and robbed the cash register of $50.

Rob Two Others.
Hearing another customer, William Campbell, enter the stand, the robbers forced him into the back room and made a haul of $25 from his pockets, and were preparing to leave, when Joseph Basalpi came in. Basalpi was bound and searched, but the bandits got only $4 from him, and fled in a Ford coupe.

Chief of Police Fred Chard of Grayslake and deputy sheriffs were notified but no trace of the hold-up men was found.

MILWAUKEE MAN DROWNS IN CEDAR LAKE YESTERDAY

Efforts of the Antioch fire department to resuscitate Ewald Kinzel, 24, who drowned in Cedar lake yesterday afternoon, were of no avail, as the man had been under the water for more than half an hour before he was found.

Kinzel was from Milwaukee and had been employed as an operator at the Lake Villa depot, during the absence of the regular employee on a vacation. He had gone bathing about 2:30 in the afternoon, and although he knew how to swim, he evidently became exhausted, and sank to his death.

Man Drowns in Slocum Lake.

An unidentified fisherman was drowned in Slocum lake near Waukegan yesterday noon, as he attempted to draw up the anchor of his small row boat. Witnesses declared that he suddenly fell forward into the water, when pulling up the anchor, and believe that he was stricken by the sun. His body had not been located this morning.

Michael Orban, of Chicago, died of a heart attack shortly after she had been in bathing in Long lake late Tuesday afternoon.

Jack Jantz, 6, son of a Chicago dentist, was injured when a long splinter ran into his foot as he was running along a pier in Crabapple Island at Fox lake Tuesday night. There is danger of infection, his doctor said.

Fred Barthel One of Oldest Men to Give War-Time Service

The return of Charles Fred Barthel to Antioch brings to mind the fact that he was one of the oldest men who volunteered for patriotic service during the World war.

Although Barthel was 60 years of age when the United States entered the war in 1917, he offered his services, and was assigned to airplane construction work. A cabinet maker and carpenter by trade, Barthel also was keenly interested in aeronautics. Recruiting officers in Chicago were somewhat surprised at the offer of service coming from a 60-year-old man, nevertheless, Barthel passed, very creditably both the physical and educational examinations, and a telegram ordering him to report for service was swarming him upon his return to his home in Kenosha.

He served at Elizabeth, N. J., and later at the Curtiss plant at Buffalo, N. Y. Soon after the signing of the armistice he was given an honorable discharge from his war-time service.

In former years, Mr. Barthel was construction foreman for ice companies at Twin Lakes and Camp Lake. In those years he thought nothing of walking the 10 miles to and from his work.

"It's different now; many people need a car to cross the street," Barthel said laughingly. He still enjoys walking, and continues to lead the active life that has stamped him as a "hardy pioneer."

The Barthel family returned here recently from Kenosha. They are living in their residence on North avenue, the home erected by Mr. Barthel over 40 years ago.

LABOR TROUBLES HOLD UP WORK ON TWO STATE ROADS

Union Men Renew Offensive Against Use of Outside Labor

Contractors on state roads were again the targets of Lake county unions this week when the offensive against the employment of non-union and outside labor was renewed. Several hundred representatives of organized labor and union sympathizers are reported to have stopped work by the Repass Construction company on the Buffalo Grove road and by the Mann Construction company on route No. 173.

These companies, it is understood, had agreed to abide by their contract provisions to employ a majority of union men and Lake county laborers.

The recent campaign against outside and non-union labor is having satisfactory results, according to leaders of the unions concerned. These include Verna Carey of the electricians' union; M. L. Bando of the carpenters; C. J. Christensen, steamfitters; E. R. Bourne, plumbers; C. H. Bales, plasterers; Tony Rosal, laborers, and A. M. Hellweg, engineers.

A number of union workmen appeared at a road job between Spring Grove and Volo on route No. 60 Tuesday afternoon and stopped work. No fighting ensued and contractors were seeking parleys with union officials Tuesday evening, it was said.

Union leaders toured the lake district in the county Tuesday and ordered workers to leave jobs. Construction of highway projects as well as private buildings were practically at a standstill today.

The county highway work has not been interfered with to date. According to R. M. Lobdell county superintendent of highways contractors on county projects use union workers only.

Fire Department Called to Put Out Straw Stack Blaze

The Antioch fire department was called to put out a blaze in a straw stack on the farm of Mrs. Charles Kohout near Bristol Sunday afternoon, when the fire threatened the farm buildings. The department arrived in time to prevent the fire from spreading.

A neat fire in the California lico subdivision at Lake Marie was quelled though not completely extinguished Friday, when the department answered the call and poured gallons of water upon the smoldering pest.

A fire in the slough behind Borse's store at Leon lake also was put out on the same day.

KAMIN HELD ON BOND FOR TRIAL

Frank Kamin, alleged perpetrator of the robbery of the Meinhardt State bank of Burlington, Saturday was held on $20,000 bond, pending a trial in the municipal court in Kenosha on a charge of bank robbery.

Kamin will be given a trial with his brother, Joe, and Reinhold Fleucker, Court Commissioner Fred Ahlgren decided at the preliminary hearing at Racine.

Employees of the bank which was robbed of $6,000 on May 15, testified to events occurring on the day of the robbery, leading up to the escape of the bandits. Officer Scheinung fired his gun at the fleeing bandits immediately after the robbery, and when Kamin and Reinhold Fleucker later were found in a cottage at Twin Lakes, Kamin was observed to be suffering from gun wounds.

He has since been recovering.

VAN PATTEN BOY'S FORD SEDAN BURNS

A leaking gas tank caused the Ford sedan owned by Laurel Van Patten to catch fire, as he was driving with two companions to a party at Arlington Heights Tuesday evening. The car burned near the golf course on route No. 31, west of the Leasely nurseries near Libertyville.

Van Patten was accompanied by Miss Grace Koeets of Lake Villa and E. Blair of Antioch. Blair received burns about the head and arms, but the others escaped unharmed.

Van Patten managed to save the tires, which were all now, before the car burned, but during the night the car was stripped of all other equipment.

He and his friends were picked up by another group of Antioch persons who were following them.

WILL WE HAVE A 10-CENT GAS TAX?

The mere fact that the Florida state senate voted in favor of an 8-cent gasoline tax shows the length to which politicians will go in their endeavor to extract money by special taxation from one class of people or industry.

The gasoline tax has always been tolerated by automobile users because it was the most practical measure to get funds with which to build roads. Florida again illustrated the old story of working a willing horse to death.

An 8-cent gas tax would make it an absolute hardship for most people to drive an automobile. There is no more sense in taxing gasoline 8 cents a gallon than there is in placing a tax of several dollars a piece on every tire purchased. In fact, many persons have wondered how tires have escaped taxation as the tax-gatherers look around to find new sources of revenue.

When Oregon led the way with a 1-cent gas tax, no one dreamed of an 8-cent tax, but, unless motorists rebel, it is entirely probable that they will face a 10-cent tax in many states within the next ten years. Then, with a tire tax and a license tax, they, together with the railroads, public utilities, insurance and banks, may be able to carry the whole state taxation load.

THE DEFICIT

With a deficit of $903,000,000 and an increase in the outstanding public debt of $616,000,000, the federal government, on June 30, ended what the New York Times calls its most unfavorable fiscal year in recent history.

During the year, treasury receipts totaled $3,317,000,000, a decline of $861,000,000 from 1930, and expenditures were around $4,220,000,000, which is greater by $226,000,000 than last year, when there was a surplus of $184,000,000. Major sources of government revenue, including income tax, corporation tax and customs duties, fell as compared with the previous year.

The government, of course, is in an absolutely sound position, but higher taxes are inevitable unless drastic economies are effected.

Depressed business conditions were directly responsible for the $861,000,000 drop in revenue.

The blame for the attendant increase of $226,000,000 in governmental expense will probably be hurled from shoulder to shoulder until forgotten.

SHARE IT WITH THE FARMER

Declining milk prices have become an increasingly serious problem to American dairy farmers.

The price declines, of themselves, do not necessarily menace the farmers' economic standards. The fault lies in the fact that farmers have been forced to take all of the loss. When milk sold at 16 cents a quart, the distributor received 6.5 cents. With milk selling at 13 cents or less, the dealer still has his 6.5-cent margin, the farmer absorbing the loss.

The farmer cannot continue to bear the price cuts alone. Reductions in milk prices are a natural part of the drop in commodity prices of all kinds—but now the dealer must help bear the burden. He must follow the example of the farmer, who has raised efficiency and reduced his operating costs to adjust himself to changed conditions.

Out of the 6.5-cent dealer margin, about one-half cent is profit, and about 3 cents goes for driver and wagon expense. It is not probable that these items can be appreciably reduced. The cut must come out of the other 3 cents which goes to overhead. Dealers and farmers must work together in living through the present period of low price levels. Each is necessary to the dairy industry and their difficulties must be shared in common.

ACCIDENT PREVENTION ON THE ROAD

Bad manners on the part of drivers are held by many authorities to be the principal cause of automobile accidents.

According to traffic engineers and statisticians, the accident rate would drop to a minimum if drivers would display a little courtesy in operating their cars by giving way when other machines are passing, and would discontinue crowding cars coming in opposite directions, the unnecessary use of loud horns, driving slowly in the midst of fast-moving traffic, etc.

A survey conducted by the Albert Russel Erskine Bureau for Street Traffic Research has shown that the automobile itself is least responsible for accidents. Poor brakes, steering and similar factors cause only a small percentage of mishaps. Human nature has not yet adjusted itself to take advantage of the full efficiency and safety of the modern car. Nine out of ten cars involved in accidents are in perfect condition. Thus, in 90 per cent of cases, accidents result from human carelessness, incompetence or bad judgment.

Good driving manners can cover a multitude of other failings. The driver who resents passing cars, who attempts to hold an undue share of the road, who has no respect for the rights of the pedestrian or other motorists, is a potential killer and destroyer of property. It is against him that future highway safety campaigns must be conducted if they are to show results.

LAKE VILLA COUPLE CELEBRATE THEIR FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY

Daughter Is Born to Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Douglas on July 29

Fifty years ago Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Thayer started out on their matrimonial journey and the occasion was celebrated Sunday at their home by a group of relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gunstone and son, of Helena, Mont.; George Feck and wife of Evanston; Mrs. Joe Pester, of Lake Villa, and son, Arthur, of Antioch; Lawrence Thayer, of Antioch; Mr. and Mrs. John Shimborg and daughters, of Waukegan; George Kean, of Great Lakes; James Cragg and family, of Ingleside; George Thayer and daughter, Jessie, and her son, of Grayslake, were present. Several relatives were unable to come. Several beautiful gifts were received, also several gold pieces. The gathering was a very pleasant one.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Douglas are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Mary Ellen, on Wednesday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lindlen and son and Mr. and Mrs. Tegmeyer, of Chicago, called on friends here Sunday. Mrs. Lindlen will be remembered as Miss Ethel Landors, a former teacher here.

Irving Young, of Chicago, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. William Weber Jr. Saturday.

Miss Genevieve Daube is spending the week with relatives in Winnetka. John Cribb accompanied his son, Harold Cribb, on a trip to Prairie du Chien Sunday to visit John Cribb Jr. at the hospital there. He is improving.

Taxpayers' Questions

How many taxpayers of Lake county, the banner Republican county of the state of Illinois, will write Calvin Coolidge at Northampton, Mass., that they want him to become a Presidential candidate in 1932?

If taxpayers do write Mr. Coolidge, will they send the Lake County Taxpayers News a copy for publication?

Was it not in the taxpayers' special journal that a plan was made for another Judge Gary and a Calvin Coolidge to save the taxpayers and the rest of the United States business men at a time when hard times drift along eternally, largely because President Hoover and his kind rivet their eyes on allens' problems and so much overlook the puzzles of Americans?

What taxpayers can understand how men who were the loudest in protesting secret meetings of public officials are willing to sit in on informal council meetings behind closed doors? Are they like little Johnnie who has to be coached on what to say and do when he appears in public?

What taxpayers can tell how many of the public officials, including "city dads," have a secret hunch they are the next heaven-sent mayor for their community? Do not taxpayers only need one mayor, but two good aldermen in each ward and have the taxpayers got them in your ward?

Have taxpayers read that the state's attorney is telling the county treasurer to pay $23,000 county hospital bills and salaries but is not indicating out of which fund the coin is to come?

Will the state's attorney secure $24,000 of this $28,000 from Supervisor Obee in accordance with the militant taxpayers petition and from the attorney who was paid around $19,000 for collecting about twice that sum in past due personal taxes, only to find the attorney general says nothing doing with such a racket with taxpayers' coin?

What would the Lake Shore Drive protagonists in Waukegan do if the attorney general should say that accretions, outside of the bulkheads put into the waters of Lake Michigan, belong to the state of Illinois in trust for the people?

Have the Lake Shore Drive protagonists forgotten to read the contract with the railroad and note that the railroad agreed to provide a private road to the Johnson and waterworks sites until the city provides a public one, and why worry a busted council with such dead issues?

Have the protagonists for public beaches investigated to see how much land has been made by the public service breakwater just south of the city's lot at the foot of Greenwood avenue and to whom it belongs? Why not ask Ben Miller to get the answer?

How many taxpayers will support a defeated Socialist-Republican politician for Congress or for the state legislature?

Have all the taxpayers noticed that the weather is hot, jobs are few, taxes are overdue, work is scarce, banks are failing, money is tight, but the government at Washington still struggles along with world problems, especially in Europe where President Hoover spent most of his business days in creating his big nest egg?

What taxpayer will report on the cost of deputy stars? Was about $1,400 allowed by the board of supervisors or what?

What is the amount of total bonds posted by deputies?

In a case of a strike how many taxpayers can see hundreds of deputies with their stars?

Has any taxpayer noticed the Waukegan council moving out of the Hiley Barn?

What taxpayer can tell the difference between praising up a boy to turn the grindstone and in selling the government a postoffice site to collect on bad debts?

How many taxpayers have noticed that some men run for office, get elected, and make a mess of the job, while others tack their pictures and platforms on a pole and let the weather remove them? Is it less painful to be removed from a pole than from a public office?

Probably Regretted Wish
Wishes come true most disastrously sometimes. A farmer with a good milch cow, living at Bethaville, South Africa, had much trouble with his breaking through the fence into his vegetable garden. In anger he wished it would die. His wish was fulfilled that afternoon when, during a slight thunderstorm, the cow was struck dead by lightning, and the farmer was deprived of his milch and had the trouble of rearing a young calf.

CRUSADERS WANT CLEAR STATEMENTS FROM CANDIDATES

Congressional Aspirants to Be Quizzed Regarding Main Issues

The first of a series of moves to force every congressional candidate to make a clear cut declaration on the wet and dry issue was started this week by Col. Ira L. Reeves, west-central division manager of the Crusaders, with a letter to Ralph Church, aspirant for the Republican congressional nomination in the new thirteenth district which embraces the north shore. The letter in full follows:

"Some members of the Crusaders have received literature announcing your candidacy for congress in the newly created thirteenth district.

"It is noticed that in none of this literature is any reference made to the fact that you led the fight in the lower house of the last legislature against the bill for the repeal of the state search and seizure law and that you were the recognized floor leader for the Anti-Saloon League and the W. C. T. U. in that fight.

"Have you abandoned your position on the prohibition question, or are you making an effort to conceal your stand on this question from the voters of your district? You doubtless know that the majority of the voters of your district favored the repeal of the state search and seizure law and also cast their ballots against the eighteenth amendment and for modification of the Volstead act.

"The Crusaders as well as thousands of voters of Illinois who are not members of this organization insist that prohibition will be a major issue at the next election. They will insist also that candidates for congress express definitely their position on this question.

"Are you again the candidate of the Anti-Saloon League and the W. C. T. U.?"

Colonel Reeves said that letters would be sent to every congressional aspirant in his division comprising of ten mid-Western states asking an unequivocal declaration before the primaries.

ALFORD COLLECTS DATA ON UTILITY PLANT VALUATION

Assessments Higher in Milwaukee Than on Local Generating Plant

(Waukegan Times, July 31)

In an effort to arrive at the valuation of the Waukegan generating plant, a subsidiary of the public service company, Assessor Russ Alford today started collecting values on public utilities in the middle West.

He will arrive at the figures for the valuation, which will hold for the next four years, by Monday or Tuesday, he admitted.

Compares Valuations.
Attorney Claire C. Edwards, of Edwards & Block, counsel for the plant, was in a conference with Alford two days ago, but it is understood that no progress was made in reaching a decision. Edwards expressed the opinion, Alford admitted, that he did not want to carry the case before the board of review.

Alford, in information from the Wisconsin state tax commission in Milwaukee power plants found that one there of 310,800 K. V. A., at the last assessment paid on a valuation of $821,140.

While the capacity of the Waukegan plant was more than one-third of the Milwaukee plant, it paid on a valuation for taxing purposes at less than one-twenty-second.

Capacity Increased.
Since last year the Waukegan plant has added a generator that will boost the capacity another 65,000 K. V. A., and a building is ready to provide another 115,000 K. V. A., according to Alford, which would boost the total capacity of the Waukegan generating company to 290,000 K. V. A.

The company, in submitting its valuation of personal property to the assessor, placed its new one at $73,500, or $25,500 greater than the year before, although, Alford said, 65,000 K. V. A. had been added.

Tells Why Banks Fail and Impound Taxpayers' Funds

Why so many bank failures, is a question that was started in the Lake County Taxpayers News on June 25, 1931, when the militant organized taxpayers addressed President Hoover with a suggestion of a congressional investigation and conference of governors to provide relief for American banks mortgagors and debtors for at least one year and for the average American taxpayer.

This question was contacted with all the governors, many senators and congressmen, and the leading newspaper correspondents at Washington. The reactions were immediate and direct and the press is featuring the subjects to which the Lake county taxpayers directed attention on account of the failure of two of our banks and the effect upon the taxpayers' money, which is tied up in these banks.

The President was asked, "Where is the great federal reserve system and how is it working with its guiding genius 3,000 miles away across the Atlantic ocean where he is credited with trying to aid the great German and Austrian banks? Does not charity begin at home and should not there be a country-wide moratorium to save the American banks, mortgagors and debtors for at least a year and some relief provided for the average American taxpayer whose ready is being practically confiscated by taxation during a period of minimum income to pay the obligations created during the boom periods? May the head of an organized group of taxpayers suggest to the President of the United States that he take means to secure a conference of the governors of all the states in order that some uniform plan may be devised to provide relief in the premises?"

The Chicago Tribune is giving special attention to the taxpayers' questions and its headlines read, "Lay Failure of Banks to Lack of Care by U. S. Hoover Receives Protest Against System," and "Banks Blame Failures Upon Reserve Board, Neglected to Use Power to Prevent Them."

The American Bankers Association says, "We believe that the federal reserve banks should exercise more freely their rights to examine banks and use their discretionary power to refuse rediscount facilities to banks indulging in objectionable banking methods."

Bank failures are increasing. Illinois had 126 suspended banks, and is second to Arkansas with 135 for 1930. During 1930, forty-two state banks and eleven national banks were placed in receiverships in Illinois alone.

The Tribune article claims that there is evidence that the reserve banks have failed to exercise their supervisory powers over member banks and that the federal reserve board has failed to exercise its power to compel reserve banks to do their duty.

Comptroller of the Currency Pole is credited with the complaint that there is lack of power to enforce compliance by bank officers with requirements laid down to prevent insolencies. He has recommended legislation conferring authority to remove recalcitrant bank officers.

The militant taxpayers in Lake county have put the local bank situation squarely up to Senator James Hamilton Lewis with a request for his aid in getting the closed banks open in order that the public funds may be quickly released.

The public treasurers have been requested in writing for a statement of their balances on the day the banks closed and the amount of the deposit bond protecting such deposits.

The state auditor's office reports in writing that the treasurers have been officially advised in the premises; however, the taxpayers are still waiting for answers from all the treasurers in order that a comprehensive publication of the situation may be had.

Apparently the Lake county taxpayers have started a national discussion of the banking failures and in time the public discussion must result in relief and remedies for the manifest defects which the press is investigating to the end that the taxpayers and the depositors of the nation may be safeguarded in their banking affairs.

The current news is that Secretary of the Treasury Mellon is returning at once from Europe.

All over the United States is arising the taxpayers' complaint that our public officials should concentrate upon American problems and forget European political messes.

PUBLISHERS ASK WRIT TO RESTRAIN UDELL CONTRACT

Rival Firm Blames "Diversion" For High Taxes

POLITICAL PROFITEERING MUST CEASE, SINGER SAYS

By H. B. Gaston

The fight to purge Lake county politics of "easy money" assumed a legal aspect Friday when Attorney Mortimer Singer filed an injunction bill in the circuit court to restrain the county board of supervisors from paying money to the Udell Printing company of Highland Park for county printing.

The injunction bill, brought by Attorney Singer in behalf of the Singer Publishing company of Highland Park, alleges that "illegal diversions and misappropriations" of public funds have brought increased taxes, and prays for relief.

Udell a Supervisor.
Paul Udell, a member of the county board and one of the county printing committee, is an official of the Udell Printing company. Attorney Singer contends that state law prohibits his company from accepting county contracts.

William Obee, chairman of the county board; County Treasurer Jay Morse; M. P. Dilger, Waukegan supervisor; Ira Holderidge, assistant from Waukegan, and Mr. Udell are named in the bill for injunction proceedings which holds that certain printing contracts of the county board are illegal.

Assessment lists for Shields Deerfield and West Deerfield townships are being published by the Udell company in weekly newspapers. Parts of the lists were published late in July and the completed lists will be published on August 6.

Will Argue Motion Friday.
Attorney Singer scratched his motion for an immediate hearing when Assistant State's Attorney George McGough protested that injunction action would hold up publication of the list and interfere with tax collections. Singer asserted that he would file an amended declaration this week and be prepared to argue the motion Friday.

The statute relating to the publication of assessment lists specifies that the lists shall be printed in newspapers printed and published in the township or assessment district, or if no newspaper is published in the township, then the list shall be published in some newspaper of general circulation in the county. Under the law it is the duty of the county treasurer to have assessment lists published. It is alleged that mediums of publication have been designated by the county printing committee, of which Udell is a member, upon the contention that a requisition from the committee was required to permit payment of the printing bill. Acting upon this practice, it is alleged in printing committee, including Mr. Udell, O. K.'d the requisitions for the printing of three assessment lists in the Udell publications, while the competitive firm, the Singer Publishing company, got nothing.

It is quite well known that requisitions are not required for the placing of assessment lists, nevertheless, County Treasurer Morse reports to a representative of the Antioch News that the printing committee has insisted that the requisitions be signed. The practice of accepting county contracts for his company has been brought to Udell's attention upon several occasions. He is quoted in the Chicago Herald and Examiner as answering the latest criticism as follows:

"I believe myself to be blameless in this accusation. The Udell company is a corporation and I am under the impression that the transactions of the company have nothing to do with me personally as a member of a political body."

Supervisor Udell last year told a representative of the News that, even though he was a member of the printing committee, he did not vote to give his own company public work, but that the other two members did the voting. When both of his arguments were punctured by citing the law in the case, he then contended that his

Tax News Items Around County

The Libertyville real and personal property assessed value has been reduced $20,000 compared with the 1930 values.

The county treasurer is awaiting the opinion of the attorney general before paying the $2,800 payroll and operating expenses of the county hospital; thanks to the recent "bonhead" legislation transferring the care of the poor from the county to the townships without legislating so that the townships could now raise money to care for the poor.

Waukegan must pay $55,000 in anticipation warrants which were issued by the old commission government and this shortens the money available for the aldermanic form of government.

Waukegan may put many of its employees on a part time basis because its funds are so small.

Deerfield township valuations may drop over $1,000,000. The rate is now 16 2/3 per cent and it may have to be raised to at least 20 per cent.

Waukegan's budget has been fixed at about $346,000, which is much less than about $600,000 appropriated. Economy is the watchword of the militant taxpayers.

High wages are being paid by the taxpayers for roadwork: 97 1/2 cents per hour for laborers and $1.62 1/2 for skilled mechanics, and many claim skill in classification. Downstate the wages are as low as 35 cents per hour.

concern had saved the county thousands of dollars by supplying printing at less cost than other firms would charge.

CHAPTER 102 ARTICLE 3

Illinois Statutes

It shall not be lawful for any person, now or hereafter, holding any office, either by election or appointment, under the constitution of this state, to become in any manner interested, either directly or indirectly, in his own name or in the name of any other person or corporation, in any contract or the performance of any work in the making or letting of which such officer may be called upon to act or vote. And it shall not be lawful for any such officer to represent, either as agent or otherwise, any person, company or corporation, in respect of any application or bid for any contract or work in regard to which such officer may be called upon to vote. Nor shall any such officer take or receive, or offer to take or receive, either directly or indirectly, any money or other thing of value, as a gift or bribe, or a means of influencing his vote or action in his official character; and any and all contracts made and procured in violation hereof, shall be null and void.

Maximum Penalty for Violation
PENITENTIARY SENTENCE OF FIVE YEARS
Fine of $1,000
Or Both

Probably there is not a supervisor in Lake county who is not thoroughly familiar with the above law, which states plainly that one holding an office either by election or appointment shall not become interested in public contracts "in his own name or in the name of any other person or corporation."

It is quite beyond the understanding of intelligent taxpayers why Supervisor Udell evidently persists in misinterpreting the Illinois statute. It is also an enigma why the supervisor board as a whole, and the printing committee in particular, has acquiesced in the illegal practice.

Can it be that Lake county printing has degenerated into a "racket"? In view of the facts, it would seem so.

OREGON GOVERNOR FAVORS TAX LEAGUES

Orgy of Extravagance Reveals Public Purse Is Not Bottomless

Everybody is starting now to do what the militant taxpayers of Waukegan did three years ago and what the Lake county communities are now doing, and that is forming taxpayers' associations of mutual protection to save really from confiscation.

The reaction to the Lake county example is immediate and direct in answer to many copies of the Lake County Taxpayers News which is going all over the United States to curious people who seek leadership and relief.

The governor of Oregon, Julius I. Meier, has just stated under his signature some pioneer declarations which ultimately will spread like wildfire among many of the states which are as hard pressed as Illinois, with its pride of municipalities, Chicago, practically bankrupt.

This governor says: "It is my hope that there will develop in the state a permanent unofficial organization, state-wide in scope. This organization should contemplate, and be vested with authority to perfect, tax leagues in each and every county of the state, specifically charged with the duty of scrutinizing every item entering into the various local levies, and further charged with the specific duty of bringing every possible pressure to bear to eliminate not only extravagance and waste, but items that can be dispensed with without materially interfering with the efficiency of local government."

"In this connection, I want to emphasize that local taxes have soared to the point where we must forego not only the luxuries, but many of the comforts, if we are to enjoy a continuance of the plain necessities. It is imperative that all dispensable outlays should, for the present, be suspended.

The only way to reduce taxes is to cut the cost of government, and if we are to be rescued from the present excessive cost of government and consequent taxation we must learn to deny ourselves many of the things which we would enjoy, but which we cannot afford to possess.

"I have further suggested that when the county tax leagues are perfected they should be made as large as possible and that an executive committee be named to carry out the contemplated tax reduction program. The state tax commission will be glad to render advice and assist in probing into local tax levies and to prepare any questionnaires that the various leagues or committees may feel will be helpful in their work.

"While the state organization and its affiliated county organizations are carrying on a voluntary program for the reduction of local tax levies study should also be given by a committee to legislation, to be either presented to the legislature or initiated, which will give the state the power to control and curb local tax levies and bond issues.

"In our cities, thousands of vacant lots have been confiscated by taxes and assessments. This continual removal of property from the tax roll reduces taxable valuations and imposes another burden upon those owners of real estate who manage one way or another to meet their tax obligations and avoid confiscation of their property.

"These excessive tax burdens in turn further tend to reduce the tax paying ability of the state at large, drive away wealth, premiumize unproductive tax exempt holdings, handicraft investment and industry, impoverish agriculture, discourage land ownership, and contribute to unemployment.

"Oregon, of course, is not alone a victim of this tax extravagance. Everywhere throughout the nation, from the lowest to the highest tax levying body, there has been a tremendous increase in the cost of public service.

"The truth of the matter is, we have been on a spending debauch and, in our orgy of extravagance and waste, we have considered the public purse as bottomless, and public credit as inexhaustible.

"But Oregon, like other states, must retrench and slash expenditures to the bone if it is to avoid confiscation of property by high taxes, and ultimate bankruptcy."

Epworth Leaguers Enjoy Series Of Campfire Meetings

Thirty-two Epworth Leaguers of the Antioch League gathered together at Larson's beach on Little Silver lake for the second of a series of eight campfire meetings. Games were played under the direction of Miss Cornelia Roberts and Lloyd Wetzel. The games featured "folk dances," a very popular form of amusement used at the institute which some of the Leaguers attended. Everyone gathered around a campfire and sang some folk songs and other old time songs.

An important event of the evening was the election of officers to serve from September, 1931, to September, 1932. Those elected were: President, Dan A. Williams; first vice president, Miss Bertha Overton; second vice president, Miss Dorothy Ferris; third vice president, Miss Evelyn Honnig; fourth vice president, Robert King; secretary, Miss Wilma Musch; treasurer, Miss Reta Hawkins.

Following the election of officers, Rev. Philip T. Bohl gave a campfire talk, his subject being, "Harmony." This was a continuation of last week's talk. Refreshments were served.

The League invites every young person of high school age or older to join with them in these campfire services.

There are to be five more of these services. Everyone is to meet at the M. E. church at 7:15 p. m., Standard Time Tuesday evening. Transportation will be provided for those who have no way to go.

The Lake Shore sub-district will have its annual picnic at Ferris's beach on Lake Marie, Thursday evening of this week. All Leaguers are invited to bring a basket lunch. The picnic starts at 3. Games will be provided for everyone. Campfire service in the evening will be led by the Rev. Ellis Cowling, of Gurnee. Leaguers are invited to come and make friends with people from other Leagues.

MRS. SIBLEY ENTERTAINS FRIENDS
A delightful luncheon and bridge party was given by Mrs. Nason Sibley for a number of her friends yesterday afternoon. Six tables of bridge were played, and prizes awarded to Mrs. Frank King, Mrs. George Bacon, Mrs. Chase Webb, Mrs. John Horan, Mrs. William Osmond, and Mrs. Ben Burke. Mrs. Sibley is entertaining another group of her friends at a luncheon and bridge party today.

LADIES' AID TO HOLD BENEFIT BAKERY SALE
A bakery sale for the benefit of the Lake Uliff orphanage will be held by the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church at Sablin's and Beck's plumbing shop Saturday.

AMERICAN LEGION TO ELECT OFFICERS
An election of officers for the coming year and a get-together meeting will be held tonight by members of the Antioch American Legion. The election is usually held in the latter part of August but has been advanced one meeting this year, so that the work would be completed early. An election of delegates to the county and state conventions will be held at the same time.

MRS. JAMES DUNN ENTERTAINS AT BRIDGE
Mrs. James Dunn was hostess to a group of friends at her home Thursday afternoon. Two tables of bridge were played, the honors being awarded to Mrs. Elmer Sisko, of Bluff lake, and Mrs. John Knott.

LADIES' GUILD TO HOLD BENEFIT PARTY
Mrs. Ernest Brook and Mrs. Dr. W. E. Potter, of Oak Park, will be hostesses to a luncheon and card party at the Channel Lake country club, next Monday, which is sponsored by the Ladies' Guild of the Episcopal church.

ANTIOCH FAMILIES ATTEND RE-UNION
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hawkins and family and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hawkins and family attended a reunion of the Hawkins and Gilmore families at the Kenosha county park Sunday. About seventy-five were present to enjoy the picnic lunch and gathering.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Love" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 2.
The Golden Text was, "The Lord thy God in the midst of thee is mighty; he will save, he will rejoice over thee with joy; he will rest in his love, he will joy over thee with singing" (Zephaniah 3:17).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "And the Lord direct your hearts into the love of God, and into the patient waiting for Christ" (II Thessalonians 3:5).
The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "It should be thoroughly understood that all men have one Mind, one God and Father, one Life, Truth, and Love. Mankind will become perfect in proportion as this fact becomes apparent; war will cease and the true brotherhood of man will be established" (p. 407).

WANTED—A noiseless way to cut corn on the cob.

Yes, you have heard about the fellow who lit a match to see if his tank was empty and found it wasn't; also the fellow who raced to the crossing to beat the train, but didn't. Did you hear of your neighbor who bought a new roof from a smooth stranger from the big city, thinking it was better than Mule-Ilde, and soon found to his grief that it wasn't? It takes only a little investigation at home to make sure before investing, and it costs nothing to inquire.

Every year about this time, coal dealers advise, "Buy your coal now." The demand for coal always comes in a rush, and it is sometimes impossible to make prompt deliveries when the first cold spell arrives.

Bigamy, they say, is having one wife too many. And monogamy is pretty often the same thing.

One farmer friend of ours was telling us yesterday about a clock at his house. "When that clock strikes three," he said, "the hand points to 11, and I know it's 6:30."

About the only thing that comes to him who waits these days is whiskers.

What have become of all those signs you used to see: "Forbidden to cross this bridge any faster than a trot?"

Bashful boy at dance: "I can't dance, but I can hold you while you do."

A True Story.
Once a man bought roofing for his buildings, from a silver-tongued salesman who told him his price was low because he didn't have any offices to keep up.

After a year the roofing went bad, but the salesman could not be found.

Then the owner discovered that his local dealer had been selling a standard, guaranteed brand of roofing all the while, at a price lower than he had paid!

It happens every year.

The laziest fellow in the world—he drives his Ford over a hump so he won't have to knock the ashes off his cigarette.

The modern farmer now finds himself with a tractor, a car, a truck, and other modern machinery. In many cases his buildings are poorly suited to his present needs. Modernization is the new word. It can be done gradually, step by step, if you choose.

Red Cross to Conduct Swimming Classes at Channel Lake Beach

Joe Ewers Is Appointed to Give Pupils Free Instruction

Through the auspices of the American Red Cross, swimming and life-saving instruction is now being given at Slide Inn beach, Channel lake. The instruction is free.

Joe Ewers, life-guard, who was appointed recently by the Lake County Red Cross to conduct classes and give examinations in the Chato, O' Lakes district, is being assisted by Hal Sklarner, Edward Haney and Charlotte Svensen, Red Cross life-guard.

The Red Cross is offering this opportunity free of charge, in a conscientious effort to reduce the number of deaths from drowning. Because of the increasing interest in swimming and other aquatic sports, the national organization has organized junior and senior life-saving corps throughout the United States. The junior corps is for swimmers from 12 to 17 years, and the senior corps is for those over 17 years of age.

The instruction given includes safety first measures, artificial respiration, how to free oneself from a drowning person, and how to rescue a person from the water.

Classes will start August 10, and instruction will be given daily at 9:30 a. m. Those wishing to enroll in the classes should call Antioch 237, or see or write Joe Ewers, Antioch.

Peace-Time Activity

The training of life-saving corps is a very important activity of the American Red Cross, according to Mancell Talcott, county chairman, who gives his unqualified endorsement to the work in Lake county. Just now one of the Red Cross life guards is making an inspection of all the lakes of the county, locating and posting the danger spots near all public beaches, Talcott announced.

"Swimmers who pass the Red Cross tests may be rolled upon as being thoroughly qualified for members of the life saving corps," Talcott said.

Drivers of sixes never want less because it takes six cylinders to give the smooth, silent power that makes driving really enjoyable

Drivers of sixes are spoiled for anything less. Drivers of sixes are "sold" on multiple cylinders. They would no more think of giving up "six" performance than any other real advancement of motoring.

Drive a Chevrolet Six, and you'll know why these drivers feel as they do. Step on the starter, let the motor idle—and notice its silence. Throw in the clutch, shift into "low"—and feel that smoothness. Change into "second," hit a faster clip, slip into "high," sweep along at top speed—then throttle down to a crawl. The smoothness and flexibility you always get are six-cylinder smoothness, six-cylinder flexibility. Annoying vibration is gone!

Over two million owners have proved this six-cylinder Chevrolet engine. They have found that it costs less for gas and oil than any other. They have found that it actually reduces upkeep costs, by holding vibration to a minimum. They know a six is better in every way—and they would never be satisfied with less!

Twenty beautiful models, at prices ranging from... $475 to $675

HintsA SUMMER SUN
ENDANGERS LOVELY
HAIR GLOSSINESSHair Specialists Recommend Hot Oil Treatments for Dull, Lifeless Hair

During the hot summer months, hair too frequently, is neglected. Beach paraders, garden enthusiasts, or sport fans find that at the close of the summer season, after the hot sun has beat mercilessly down upon their heads day after day, their hair is coarse, brittle, and lifeless. A hat or a handkerchief about the head would protect the hair.

If the hair does get into that condition, a remedy is in order at once. A hot oil treatment or a hair tonic will restore the natural glossiness. Heated olive oil or shampoo oil may be worked into the scalp several hours before shampooing, and the head kept wrapped in a warm towel until time to shampoo.

To apply the oil, the hair is parted first and then the oil swabbed on the scalp. Then another part is made, about half an inch from the first, the oil applied, and so on, around the head.

Mix Your Own.

A hairdresser may determine the amount of oil to be used on the hair, or one can do it herself. Tonics are on the market which include oil to be added, and one can use the amount which best suits her individual need. Dermatologists have worked for years preparing a formula that was not greasy and was slightly perfumed, and have now put on the market a bottle of non-oily liquid with a trick stopper arrangement to which is attached a small vial of oil.

Very dry hair may need all of the oil while oily hair requires scarcely any. Those with long hair will, no doubt, find that they require more than their bobbed sisters. These hot oil treatments have been found to be an aid to setting the hair, and of keeping a permanent in condition.

Keep Scalp Stimulated.

The old-fashioned custom of thoroughly brushing the hair is not so commonly practiced as formerly, but it should be, according to all the leading health and beauty specialists. A daily massage with tonic and hair-brushing will prove effective in preventing dandruff, falling hair or early graying.

Nothing gets hair into worse condition than having it wet from dirty lake water, day after day. If possible, it should be washed or rinsed after a swim, and thoroughly dried.

A summer sun is nature's way of drying the hair, and, after a shampoo, one should take full advantage of the sunshine by drying the hair-brushes in the sun as well as rubbing the hair dry with clean, sunny towels.

NEW FALL MILLINERY

This month sees new fall creations in the millinery line, and introduces new flatterer styles and fabrics for daytime, afternoon and evening. Felt and velvets in combination are quite the smartest millinery conceptions today.

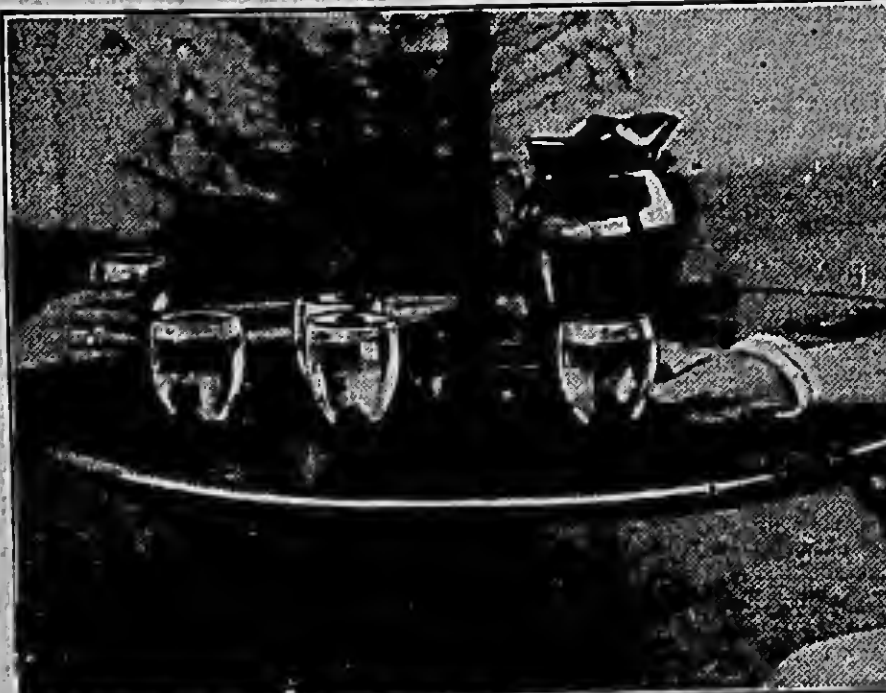

The first model shows a new brim treatment in felt, while the lower one features the rolled velvet brim.

SUMMER SWALLOWS

By Jane Rogers

To ravish the hot and dusty tennis players and weary golfers, not to mention the porch brigade who just sit and try to keep cool, there is nothing like a well prepared lead beverage. Its frosty coolness will quickly drive away thoughts of the oppressive heat, while generous sweetening with sugar will provide renewed energy for the fagged out players and reeking chair athletes alike.

Frosty Mint

Crush one bunch fresh mint. Combine juice with the juice of five lemons. Add one-half cup water, boiling hot, and one and a half cups sugar. Let stand one-half hour. Just before serving add three bottles of ginger ale. Serve in the new, squat glasses, with an ice cube, a maraschino cherry and a slice of lemon in each glass.

Comradeship Has
Place in Children's and Parents' LivesParents Are Rewarded Who Do Things With Kids as Well as for Them

When parents read of some boy gone wrong, a boy who has had all the cultural advantages afforded by well-to-do parents, they often seek to lay the blame upon some hereditary impulse; environment, apparently, has not been responsible for the act. Some parents fail to realize, however, that environment includes more than material surroundings—that understanding, discipline, trust and affection are character-forming factors as well.

The following story is an example which illustrates this truth.

Doing Things for Son Not Enough.

It was a hard moment for Howard Barnard, widely-known attorney-at-law, prominent civic leader, personally admired and highly respected throughout the exclusive suburb in which he had lived for more than twenty years. His boy, his only son, one of a gang of idle sons of the over-rich, had been caught red-handed in the act of breaking into a bank. The boy had been taken to jail, and refused bail. When the newspaper headlines brought to the father the startling news, he hurried home from the nation's capital on the earliest train.

Curious eyes watched him alight at the station. As his taxi hurried to his home in the little suburb, doors were opened and curtains pushed aside to get a glimpse of the father of the guilty boy.

It was a hard meeting when father and son met.

After All He Had Done—

"After all I've done for you!" was all that Howard Barnard, fluent, persuasive, attorney of far-fung fame, could utter. "After all I've done for you—you ungrateful son!"

The boy tried to speak, swallowing hard. Finally it came. His tone was not cynical—not egotistically sophisticated as it had been so often of late. It was now a halting, questioning voice. The words came slowly. "Father—I wish—that you—don't think I'm blaming you for my foolishness—but if you had done more things with me instead of for me, maybe—"

His voice trailed off into nothingness. His sentence was forever unfinished for he saw that his thought was cutting into his father's soul.

But as the father with broken, halting step headed homeward, he mumbled to himself, "If only I could say instead, 'After all we've done together!'—Perhaps—Perhaps—"

Exhibitors Can Start Planning
Fair Entries Now

With the announcement last week that work is being started on the new catalog for the Antioch Country Fair, it behooves all prospective exhibitors to be thinking of their entries.

The household department with its three divisions—domestic art or sewing exhibits, pantry stores, and fine arts—is a special interest to women. Those who intend to enter exhibits in the clothing or arts division could begin work now, and have a really fine specimen of handwork when Fair time comes along.

Start Planning Now.

If several neighbors or a group of women banded together to work out an elaborate fancywork design or artistic display, all would derive much fun and benefit from the experience.

While the preparation of all bakery exhibits must be left to the last minute, those who plan to enter exhibits in the culinary division might be watching for new ways of making the standard pastries, or they could be canning and selecting the best specimens now, rather than leaving the matter until the last minute, and then choosing at random.

Want to Sell?

You can be deciding now whether what you sew, paint, bake or can is to be for your own use later, or to be sold. If you are in the habit of making fancy quilts and make them easily and quickly, it might be profitable to you to sell them if desired by an interested person. Or some far-thinking friends may be starting to pick up Christmas presents, and decide that your painted china set would make an ideal gift for Aunt Sophia, or that Cousin John, who is just crazy about a special kind of pickles, would be tickled to receive a jar.

An Unusual Dessert

WOULD you like to know a peach of a dessert in which peaches are used in an unusual way? It's an elaborate cake, but the very first taste will convince you that it is well worth all the trouble you took.

Here It Is

Peach Croissant: Make a sponge of one yeast cake, one-fourth cup warm water, one teaspoon sugar, one-third cup evaporated milk, one-third cup hot water and one cup flour. Cover, and let rise till very light. Add four beaten eggs, two-thirds cup butter, one-half cup sugar, two teaspoons salt and about three and one-half cups flour to make dough. Knead well, and let rise till double in bulk in a greased bowl, covered. Cut down, knead slightly, and pat or roll out into a thin rectangle. Brush with butter and spread one cup of chopped, well-drained canned peaches and two-thirds cup chopped vacuum packed walnuts along the center. Sprinkle with brown sugar, and bring the long sides of the rectangle together in the middle, pinching well. Place roll in a greased pan in the shape of a crescent or half moon. Brush with butter, and let rise till double in size. Bake in moderate, 350 degrees, oven for about twenty minutes. When slightly cool, cover with white icing made of confectioner's sugar, cream and orange extract.

TOPPY'S TRAVELS

Synopsis: Topsy leaves home to follow his canary. After many adventures, Mr. Frog and Toy, the drowdrop, cause the Cushions to fight the Pillows, who have invaded the land of the Cloud-Queen. However, as the Pillows seem to be winning from the Cushions, Topsy trains an army of the Cloud-people, and sets forth to capture the Pillows. They meet a band of Pillows, and Topsy orders an attack.

Continue the story—

The Cloud-soldiers rushed forward and surrounded the Pillows. Topsy heard the exclamations of anger and dismay which the Pillows made, and rejoiced. Vainly the Cloud-soldiers bent against the heads of the Pillows, who kicked and shouted, powerless to defend themselves. They scattered and ran, but Topsy, ever watchful, used his sword to advantage if one escaped his soldiers.

When the Pillows became too bewildered to know what they were doing, Topsy's men drove them forward into the land of the Cushions.

Mr. Frog grew very uneasy as they drew nearer to the court. "This delay has lost us much time," he growled, frowning. "We cannot be sure of the position of the enemy. I wish we could hide ourselves until our scouts bring back more definite information."

Just then Mr. Frog and Topsy heard a small voice piping, "Wait a minute, please. Stop the army."

They swung about in amazement to see little Toy standing beside them.

"Toy!" the boy exclaimed.

"Quick, stop the army," Toy implored.

Topsy gave the order at once, and listened to what Toy had to tell.

"A big band of Pillows and their captives are just ahead. To the left is a hollow which they will not pass. Take your men there, while I slip into the enemy's camp, and tell the Cushions that help is near, so they will expect you and help you. Then you must march directly to the court, overcome the guards and take possession. As each new band of Pillows come with their captives, it will be easy to surround them and drive them in."

"Toy, you are a marvel," cried Topsy with admiration.

He directed the soldiers into the hollow, and sent two scouts with Toy to deliver the message to the Cushions.

"Good luck, Toy," he bade the little drowdrop as he hastily departed.

"Thank you, Topsy," said the loyal little Toy. "I can't say just how soon I will be back. It may be some time before I can manage to get past the Pillow guards. But don't worry, Topsy, we will do it."

"Just a minute, Toy," the little general stopped him, suddenly remembering his bird friend. "How is the falcon?"

"Not very well," Toy answered sadly. "It is hard for him to find enough to eat, and so hard for him to keep from laughing. He has been really miserable. I hated to leave him, but it was necessary. I'm afraid, though, that without me there to cheer him up, he may let go and begin laughing. Then the Pillows will know that he is inside, and will catch him and put him in a cell."

"I'm sorry," said Topsy sincerely. "We will have to hurry and save him. Good-bye, Toy."

"Good-bye," The drowdrop and the two scouts departed.

MOOSE AGAIN ROUT OPPONENTS BY LARGE SCORES

If the Moose team members continue through the season with their present spirit, they have every chance of coming through as league champions. They now trail Lake Villa, rated the strongest team, by half a game.

The Moose took a 27-13 win from the courageous Firemen last Thursday night, after a real slugfest.

Bill Morley, Ray Sorenson, Chet Runyard and Fred Stahmer all turned in home runs for the Moose, while Elmer Peterson and Down circled the bases for the Firemen. Lasco, Bill Hallwas, and Emil Hallwas also made tracks for runs for the Moose. William Keulman, Firemen batter, made three hits.

The Firemen showed a fighting spirit throughout the game in spite of the discouraging score. During the game, they rapidly built up the defense with new material in an effort to find the right combination.

The score:

Defeat Merchants.

Shadowing the Merchants by a 17-4 score gave the Moose team another win on Monday evening. Although Murrie pitched a nice game for the Merchants, his teammates failed to hit their stride, and played a loose game, in contrast with their remarkable defense shown by the Moose fielders. Lasco gave a thrilling exhibition of long running and a spectacular catch. William Hallwas, L. Nelson and R. Sorenson were the Moose star hitters, while Red Murrie further upheld his team by being first in hitting honors.

CHANNEL LAKE COUNTRY CLUB NEWS

No social activities marked the past week-end at the Channel Lake country club, but the ever-popular golf course was full from early morn until dusk.

The second card tournament of the season started this week Tuesday, and seven tables of bridge players spent a hot but enjoyable afternoon. The high honors for the game went to Mrs. E. J. Gnaedinger, Mrs. Max Mauermann, and Mrs. Ernest Brook, and the guest prize was won by Mrs. Jochin, a guest of Mrs. Adams.

The chairman of the ladies' golf committee Mrs. Wm. K. Gray announced a driving contest for this week's event, the play to begin at 9:30 a. m. (Daylight Saving Time) and next week's event will be low and high gross scores, also a prize for four blind holes. The lucky winners for the blind bogey last week were Mrs. C. W. Laflin, who drew the members' prize, and Mrs. C. R. Reynolds of Evanston, who was awarded the guest prize. Thirty-seven ladies attended the luncheon which followed the game, and among those present were Mrs. A. P. Fox and Mrs. O. H. Darlington, guests of Mrs. Harry Arms, as well as many others whose names were not given the writer.

The members are looking forward with much pleasure to the dance to be held at the clubhouse Saturday night of this week. Special music from Chicago has been engaged which will play from 10 to 11, Daylight Saving Time, and it is hoped there will be a large attendance. The usual fee of $1 per person will be charged, and punch will be served throughout the evening.

Saturday, August 15, there will be a community dinner served from 6:30 to 7:30, Daylight Saving Time, which is always a family affair, including children and grown-ups. The chairman, Mrs. Laflin, would appreciate early reservations, that proper arrangements for food may be made. Please phone the clubhouse, or Mrs. Laflin may be reached through 105-M. The usual charge of 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for children under 12 years, will be charged. The special events committee, headed by Herbert VanPelt Branscome, is planning some form of entertainment for the evening, following the dinner.

Thursday of last week, Mrs. J. H. Sandell was hostess to several ladies from Chicago, some of them participating in the golf game at the club in the morning, and later a luncheon followed by bridge at Mrs. Sandell's cottage. The city guests included Mrs. O. C. Brodway, Mrs. Edith Wetmore, Mrs. E. H. Keesberger, and Mrs. H. F. Rietz.

Mrs. Herbert C. VanPelt and Mrs. J. E. Gorsuch entertained at luncheon and bridge at the clubhouse Wednesday of this week.

Firemen Lose In League But Win Practice Game

Lake Villa Takes Games of Merchants and Firemen; Still Lead League

Lake Villa was twice victorious during the last week over two local baseball teams, enabling them to retain their lead in the league.

They played a hard game with the Merchants last Thursday night, but came through for a 10-7 win, after they had cut the tie, in the ninth inning, with three runs. Telde, Lake Villa hurler, pitched close ball, allowing only six hits. Miller, Turk and Fuchs were the strong Lake Villa hitters, while Middleton snatched two of Antioch's six hits.

Firemen Lose to Lake Villa.

Lake Villa ball players were in their element when they played the Firemen Monday evening in a regular hitting orgy. Every man made at least one hit while Zenor made five, and Hinton and Miller, each, four.

The Firemen socked out a number of hits, but couldn't manage to make them count for runs. Keulman, Hahn and Down were the chief Firemen sluggers. Lake Villa was off for a good start, making six runs in the first inning, and holding the Firemen scoreless until the fifth.

Firemen Take Practice Game.

The Firemen took a practice game from Ingleside on the local field on Tuesday by one run, 17-16. Hahn and Pierce topped the most runs for Antioch although Lindholm, Ringdod and Hanke made the most hits. Toner and Weaver, of Ingleside, proved to be hitters of first-class standing. Ingleside had an edge on the Firemen until the seventh inning, when the locals put across seven runs.

Antioch Town Team Takes Game From Wadsworth

The Antioch Town team took a thriller from Round Lake Sunday by a score of 5-5, after trailing for seven innings. In the seventh, eighth and ninth, the local boys pushed their runs across for an easy win. Down stamped the mound for Antioch and, after the second inning, pitched unflinching ball.

In the first two innings, Round Lake nicked Down for five runs on as many errors by his teammates. Middleton, at second base, made some great running catches, while Shannerson started in the field. Hughes, Middleton and Willett were Sunday's heavy hitters.

LAKE COUNTY Farm Bureau NEWS NOTES

Boys' 4-H Teams Go to Urbana.
Sunday, R. C. Glickerson, Farm adviser, and Albert Herman, assistant club leader, took three judging teams to Urbana to compete in the state contest.

Bertam Galtger, Elmer Sheehan and Howard Schaeffer composed the fat stock team; Clarence Galtger, Lloyd Barnstable and Howard Donner composed one dairy judging team, and Roy Bonner, Howard Donner and Merin Christensen, the second.

The dairy team, composed of Clarence Galtger, Lloyd Barnstable and Lloyd Atwell, won sixth in the state contest.

4-H Club and Farmers' Picnic.
The 4-H Club and Farmers' picnic, which is being sponsored by the Lake County Pure Milk Association and the Lake County Farm Bureau, will be at the Public Service Company Model Farm at Mundelein, next Wednesday. This will be the 4-H club Achievement Day, at which time the boys will have their livestock exhibits, and the girls their sewing exhibits. Judging will start at 9 a. m., Standard Time.

During the day there will be horse-shoe pitching contests and two baseball games besides numerous races and other games.
Televox, the electrical man who milks cows sweeps the floors, grinds feed, and does a score of other useful chores on the farm, and the Mystery Man will both be present on the grounds that day.

Clean as the Sunshine

Don't be bullied around another winter by harboring these parasites in your basement. Smoky Jim gets into everything, and Joe Heavyash is always underfoot like a ball and chain. Pa Bentback loves to park on loaded shovels, while Sambo Soot scurries around mousing up the whole house. And if you don't keep scratching Old Man Clinker's back with the poker, he'll try to break every grate in your furnace. Get rid of them all by ordering Koppers Coke. It's lighter on the shovel, smokeless and sootless, and leaves no ash worth sifting.

AND HE KNOCKED ME DOWN
WHEN I SAID "WHERE IS HE?"

THE TREASURE CAVE

When that crazy old hermit locked us in that log cage I thought we were done for. Then, as quickly as it had shut th' heavy door swung open and there was th' hermit laughin' fit to split his sides. "Haw-haw-haw!" he roared. "Jest ol' Black Dog's way of havin' a little lark." I was so glad to be out in th' bright sunshine once more that I had to grin a little myself.

Then th' old boy told me that he would show us th' treasure in th' cave. If I could have seen what we were in for later I would have skipped with Kangy and Singoot right then. Well, th' hermit lit a torch and guided us down a long, dark passage in th' rocky cavern. The air was damp and musty. Any minute I expected to see th' grinnin' faces of ghostly pirates peerin' at us out of th' darkness. We came to th' openin' of a smaller cave. Th' old man pointed to it and whispered: "Sh-h-h! th' treasure's in there!" Then he yanked a cutlass from a scabbard at his side and yelled: "Hail! You're fixin' to tell Morgan that I showed ye th' gold!" Right then I was certain that th' old man was crazy, and I knew that my pals and I would have to skip out of there in a hurry, and that's what we did, with th' crazy old coot after us. We finally got out of th' cave, but we were not safe yet. In my next yarn I'll tell you what happened later.

IN BILL'S LAST YARN, BLACK DOG, THE PIRATE HERMIT OF BOO-BOO ISLAND, ON PRETEXT OF SHOWING BILL AND HIS ANIMAL PALS HIDDEN GOLD, LOCKED THEM IN A STRONG STOCKADE!

AND THEN!

HAW-HAW! OL' BLACK DOG'S WAY OF HAVIN' A LARK, HATE NOW I'LL SHOW YE TH' TREASURE CAVE!
